

THE HAYTI HERALD

VOL. 8.

HAYTI, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1916.

NO. 9.

RESOLUTIONS.

Hayti Camp No. 9507, M. W. A. Hayti, Mo., Jan. 12, 1916. Wm. Patrick, a member of Hayti Camp No. 9507, M. W. A., departed this life Sunday, January 9, 1916.

Therefore, Be it Resolved, that in remembrance for his deep devotion to woodcraft, the charter be draped in mourning for the usual period.

That we extend our deepest sympathies and condolences to the bereaved family, who will miss him more than we.

Be it Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be secured to the minutes of the fraternity, that a copy be sent to the Hayti Herald for publication, and that a copy be sent to the sorrowing family at this sad hour.

A. G. SANDERS,
JACK EDWARDS,
JIM BYRD,
Committee.

A cold wave struck this part of the country this week which has made our people get out their heavy overcoats and think what they did with their last year's wages.

John Scott and wife and little son, Jimmie, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. Oleson at the club house on Little River Sunday.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. C. L. Lefler is on the sick list this week.

Elmer Hazel of Caruthersville was shaking hands with friends in this city awhile Wednesday.

Have you attended the 15% Discount Sale at Uncle Fuller's Variety Store? They're making bargains.

Esq. W. D. Hudgens of Concord was attending to business in Hayti Wednesday.

Lawyer Von Mayes attended to legal matters at the county seat Wednesday.

This is Chili Con Carne weather. We handle the kind that started the war in Mexico. Buckley. S-11

George Hudson of Caruthersville moved to the old King farm northeast of this city this week.

John Fields was in Portageville Monday visiting his uncle, Billie Fields, who is very ill, he being in his 88th year.

Why use the smoky, cheap oil, when you can buy the best for the same money at Uncle Fuller's Variety Store?

District Attorney Arthur L. Oliver and H. Highfill passed through this city Monday night on their way from Caruthersville to St. Louis.

SCHOOL NOTES.

By W. H. JOHNSON, Superintendent

The work on a school annual is being put under headway and we are glad to see the spirit of determination as manifested by all students of the high school in this undertaking.

Upon the guidance of the following editorial staff will depend in a large measure the success of the work:

1. Editor in Chief—Blair Buckley.

2. Associate Editors—Bonnie Hart and Earl Raybuck.

3. Business Manager—Isaiah Paris.

4. Associate Business Manager—Lillie Sprayberry.

5. Art Editors—Walter Dorris and Floyd Bissett.

6. Literary Editors—Harry Gettings, Joseph Kohn, Hattie Mae Argo and Carl Sigler.

On behalf of these students and the effort they are making, I wish to ask of the business men of the town a liberal amount of advertising for this annual, as several copies are to be put out; besides, your advertisement in this publication will show that you are willing to encourage the boys and girls in this effort. Undoubtedly this will be a distinctive sort of advertising, as these annuals will be kept as souvenirs in the homes of the people possessing them.

"Brother Josiah," the play to be given by the high school Thursday night, Jan. 27, is a very strong one and bids fair to be one of the best entertainments put on by the school. The following will have parts in the play: Hugh Harbert, Nat Buckley, Harry Gettings, Walter Dorris, Eddie Virg Jaden, Mr. Brooks, Ellis Kohn, Lillie Sprayberry, Pearl Chism, Hattie Mae Argo and Stella Dorris.

The boys' basketball team will go to Seath for a game Friday night.

Don't miss the game Friday night at the court on south side of square between the high school girls and lady teachers. This will be a closely contested battle from start to finish.

An Indian Yarn.

An Oklahoma editor tells of an old Indian that came to his office to subscribe for the paper, according to the Ashland Clipper. The editor took the Indian's money, then the Indian wanted a receipt. The editor tried to talk him out of it, but Mr. Indian wanted a receipt. After making it, the editor asked him why he was so persistent in wanting a receipt. He said: "Medie some time. Go to gate and St. Peter ask if I been good Indian. I say yes. He say, did you pay your debts? I say yes. He say, did you pay editor of Chieftain for paper? I say yes. He say, where is receipt? I don't have it. I have to run all over hell to find you and get receipt."

We are in receipt of a very nice letter from J. R. Heard of Humble, Texas, in which he incloses a dollar for the Herald for another year. It will be remembered that Mr. Heard was in this city several weeks ago visiting friends and relatives, the first time he had been here for quite a number of years, and he was agreeable surprised at the growth of the county, and especially Hayti. He says the Herald is a credit for any city of this size.

M. G. Manuel, one of the live wire merchants of Pascola, was in this city Tuesday night looking after business matters.

FIRE PREVENTION.

At every farm house and detached city dwelling there should be a ladder, such a one as can be made in a day or bought ready-made for three dollars. Many fires are started in shingle roofs and in attics by sparks from chimneys, so that it is desirable, indeed, to have ready a means of access to them with the water bucket. Aside from this, a ladder may be needed for rescue use when fires start in a lower story.

Most of the fires which destroy homes start in the kitchen. The cook stove has no summer vacation, usually it is too close to the wall, often has insufficient zinc under it to protect the floor from the heat and falling coals, has the longest stovepipe from which sparks may escape, and frequently is warped or cracked, or both. In the kitchen there should be at all times a bucket full of water to quench starting fires. This applies to kitchens having gas stoves, for they furnish half as many dangers as those burning coal or wood, and the kitchens in which the drinking water bucket is but half full half the time and may be empty at the wrong time. Buckets with round bottoms are made for holding water for use against fire. Such a bucket is not liable to be used for scrubbing or any purpose liable to take it out of its place. It is hung on a hook or supported on a shelf having a hole in it. In winter, salt is added to the water to prevent its freezing.

Queer Quirks of News.

Chicago, Ill.—H. J. Callahan testified in court that dead cockroaches had been used as a meal ticket in various first class restaurants during the last seven months. "I carry a supply with me," said Callahan. "When I finished eating, I would throw one on the plate, call the proprietor, look at him disgustedly and walk out, without settling the bill. It never failed."

Rome, Italy.—Paolina Pellegrini, the woman who never drank water, is dead at 107 years of age near Florence. She confined her drinking to wine, and declared she did not know the taste of water.

Paris, France.—A young woman of Paris recently married a dead man. Since the war, marriage by proxy has become the custom. On Nov. 17 the young woman was married by proxy to Sergeant Joseph Conduche. On Dec. 1, she was informed officially that Sergeant Conduche had been killed at Souchez on September 28. The woman will get a widow's pension.

Portland, Ore.—Albert Hallen, 55, willed the disposition of $250 and died. Only $210 could be found, until it was discovered he had swallowed a ten dollar gold piece while delirious. The money was taken from his stomach and disposed of according to his will.

Kansas City, Mo.—Have scientists succeeded in prolonging the span of human life? Dr. Virgil A. Davis, who has been investigating, says that 36 states contain 672 persons over 90 years old. Of these 135 have reached or passed the century mark. One, Mrs. L. E. Killcrease of Pine Hills, Tex., is 138 years old. Her daughter is nearly 100 years old.

Toronto, Can.—A private who returned invalided from the French front, underwent a novel operation which, it is believed, will prove successful. Part of his jaw had been shot away, and surgeons replaced the jaw bone with a portion of the man's own rib.

CONCORD ITEMS.

BY BILL.

J. B. Sanders and family spent Sunday with the family of A. R. Sanders.

Lee Hurley of Black Island is very sick this week.

Dennis Klingensmith and wife of Hayti spent several days of last week with his father, Esq. F. M. Klingensmith.

Mrs. Macklin Jones, who has been confined to her room for several days is able to be out.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Meek on December 27, leaving a fine girl.

Constable R. D. Sanders was in Hayti Monday attending to business matters.

Correspondents Wanted.

This paper wants a good, live, energetic correspondent from each school district in Pemiscot county, to send in good local news from each community each week. We will be glad to pay well for service rendered. For further information, call or write to the Hayti Herald.

M. W. A. MEETS.

The Modern Woodmen held their annual election Wednesday night and the following were elected for the ensuing year: J. H. Fields, consul; George Cameron, advisor; A. G. Sanders, banker; John T. Buckley, clerk; W. I. Oates, escort; Jim Stanley, watchman; W. J. Harrington, sentry.

At their regular meeting Friday preparations will be made for a weiner roast to be held Friday night, January 21. This should be quite an inducement to get a number of the members out, and an invitation is extended to all members to be present.

Riley Hall, a well known lawyer of Kennett, passed through this city Tuesday on his way to New Madrid, he being employed by the night riders of that county to defend them.

Bob Blakemore, Kirk Petty and Hop Ingram of Kennett were in this city awhile Sunday shaking hands with friends.

Progressive Pharmacy

is practiced at our store. Great progress is being made in medical science and new remedies are constantly being discovered.

Many of these are important and are often prescribed by physicians. This creates new problems for the pharmacist and renders it more essential that prescriptions should be compounded by those only who are entirely competent. We always have these newer remedies on hand and allcompounding at our store is done by skilled pharmacists.

Notwithstanding the superior character of our service, our prices are always reasonable.

By All Means Get a SIX

There is a fluidity to the power of a good SIX that makes a simply irresistible appeal to the man who has driven any car.

There is a smoothness, a swiftness—an entirely new and fascinating pleasure awaiting the man who buys his first six. Especially if he buys the new

GRANT SIX

For this car couples marvelous flexibility of operation with excess power. It is more economical than any "four"—owners average over 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—many of them get 25 miles—some of them 28 miles.

And in riding luxury—in roominess—in excellence of appointments and completeness of equipment Grant Six will astonish you.

This astonishment will quickly turn into eager desire for ownership when you have had a demonstration.

When may we give it to you?
